Belt, Road, and Beyond
Uncover the inner workings of China's Belt and Road Initiative and gain an inside look at how the flagship, trillion-dollar enterprise is directing investment, reshaping regional infrastructure, and disrupting global trade dynamics.

Crash Course: Trade Policy with the Trade Guys
Join the hosts of CSIS's highly rated Trade Guys podcast for a behind-the-scenes look at the U.S. trade policy process. Discover how trade policy is really formulated and explore the legal frameworks and norms, key multilateral institutions, and the biggest trade policy challenges facing the Biden administration.

The Dynamics and Implications of China's Rise
China's growing international influence, military clout, and economic development is creating new challenges and opportunities for its neighbors, the United States, and the international community. Delve into the political dynamics and interests guiding key regional actors and what they mean for the future of U.S.-China strategic competition.

Economics in National Security
Explore how the United States uses instruments of economic statecraft—both coercive tools like sanctions and inducements such as development assistance—to shape other countries' behavior and advance U.S. prosperity and security. Analyze the range of economic policy tools available to U.S. policymakers and how to deploy them individually and in concert with each other as part of a broader strategy.

Evolving Technologies: Innovation, Competition, and Change
This online course focuses on some of the most critical issues leaders must grasp as we move into a global environment increasingly reshaped by automation, connectivity, ubiquitous knowledge, and technological competition. The evolving technologies covered—5G and 6G networks, AI, automation, human enhancement, and more—will continue to change our lives and work in fundamental ways.

Global Foresight: Preparing for Future Trends
Strategic foresight—equal parts art and science—is the methodology leaders rely on to achieve their goals during major paradigm shifts. Learn to identify, track, and prepare for post-pandemic futures, the economics of climate change, the impact of disruptive technologies, and the other megatrends that will drive decision-making for the next 30 years.

Inside DOD's FY 2023 Budget
Gain access to expert analysis on major changes in the U.S. FY 2023 defense budget request and the Biden administration's national defense strategy. Dive deep into how these changes will affect the defense enterprise and how to find the data that's most important for your organization.

Navigating U.S. Foreign Assistance
Join a diverse network of industry professionals and discover the latest tools, trends, and techniques international development leaders need to successfully navigate the U.S. humanitarian assistance ecosystem. Identify key players, master the bureaucratic process, and build a road map to maximizing impact.

Red Teaming Analysis: Alternative Analysis and Risk Assessments for a Changing World
Discover how to build and lead red teams tasked with helping large, diverse organizations understand rapidly changing environments. Through a mix of seminars and interactive exercises learn how to develop alternative assessments and support strategic planning initiatives in defense, intelligence, and business settings.

Understanding Washington
Learn the ins and outs of Washington's unique political landscape from D.C. insiders and experienced policy practitioners. Understand how formal institutions and informal networks interact to advance policy interests. Sharpen the skills you need to manage crises, assess breaking developments, and engage both government and nongovernment actors.

Wargaming: Constructing Simulations and Competitive Strategy Exercises
Learn how to design wargames and simulations that help your organization better understand opportunities and vulnerabilities relative to your competition. Through a mix of seminars and interactive exercises, participants will understand a wide range of gaming approaches, how to analyze the results, and how to design their own games in support of strategic planning initiatives.
