

Center for Strategic & International Studies
Washington, DC

Mexico's National Action Party: Congressional Outlook 2004-2006

On February 25, 2004, the Mexico Project hosted a delegation of legislators from Mexico's National Action Party (PAN) for an interactive discussion on the party's legislative agenda and outlook for the spring 2004 session of congress. The delegation was led by Rep. Pablo López-Núñez, one of the PAN's seven Deputy Whips, and Rep. Adriana González, who serves as Chairwoman of the International Relations Committee in the Chamber of Deputies. Reps. López-Núñez and González were accompanied by a seven-member delegation of PAN Deputies. Reps. López-Núñez and González focused on their party's legislative agenda, the PAN platform heading into the 2006 elections, the party's foreign policy orientation, the party's position on/prioritization of the structural reforms being debated in Mexico, and the party's priorities in the U.S.-Mexico bilateral agenda. The deputies also responded to questions on: trilateralization of the annual Interparliamentary Group meeting; privatization of the energy sector, policy on voting rights of Mexicans living abroad, fiscal reform and the informal sector, small business development, and electoral reform.