

Please join the Center for Strategic and International Studies Post-Conflict Reconstruction Project and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum for:

Stephen Rapp

Chief of Prosecutions, International Criminal Tribunal-Rwanda

and

Michael Johnson

former Chief of Prosecutions, International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, and Registrar of the War Crimes Chamber in Sarajevo

discussing

“International Criminal Justice: What Can it Achieve?”

After the fighting but before the peace, the international justice system addresses the past and the future. Does post-conflict criminal justice rebalance communities or re-inspire aggression? Do criminal tribunals build the foundation for a new system based on respect for law and order, and in so doing prevent future conflict? What have been the successes, failures, and lessons learned thus far?

with an introduction and remarks by:

Bridget Conley-Zilkic

Project Director, Committee on Conscience, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

Wednesday, November 1st, 2006

2:00 pm to 3:00 pm

at CSIS, 1800 K Street, NW/ B-1A Conference Center

For more information about the Post-Conflict Reconstruction Project at CSIS, please visit www.pcrproject.com

For more information on the Committee on Conscience, please visit <http://www.ushmm.org/conscience/>