We Data GEM: Climate Finance for Developing Countries, 2013-2020

A report published this month by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) estimates total finance provided and mobilized by developed countries at $83.3 billion in 2020, falling well short of the $100 billion annual commitment.

LATEST FROM CSIS ECONOMICS

Translating Urgency into Action: Climate Finance Mobilization
CSIS senior fellow Stephanie Segal argues that the successful transition to a net zero global economy will depend on mobilizing private finance, given investment needs in the hundreds of trillions. Read more.

Unpacking the PCAOB Deal on U.S.-Listed Chinese Companies
The CSIS Economics Program examines the implications of a recent U.S.-China deal allowing U.S. auditors to inspect the filings of Chinese companies listed on U.S. stock exchanges. Read more.

Commerce Eases Export Controls on Standards-Setting Activities
CSIS associate fellow Matthew Reynolds examines a new Commerce Department rule and assesses its implications for telecommunications standards setting and U.S.-China technological competition. Read more.

IPEF Comes into Focus at LA Ministerial
The CSIS Economics Program and Scholl Chair in International Business analyze actions taken during the formal kick-off of negotiations for the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework for Prosperity (IPEF) in Los Angeles. Read more.
IN THE NEWS

“IPEF parties do not plan to negotiate trade liberalization.”

Matthew P. Goodman | Forbes

“The analogy to Russia is the best analogy we are going to get [for potential sanctions on China], but it is still a pretty poor analogy ... you don’t know how politics are going to react until something happens, because before it happens you might think its unthinkable.”

Gerard DiPippo | The Mercatus Center

EXECUTIVE EDUCATION

Belt, Road, and Beyond, November 2-4: The CSIS Economics Program will explore changes in China’s Belt and Road Initiative and new U.S. and global alternatives. Join us in D.C. or online and become an expert on the fast-moving global infrastructure story. Register here by Oct. 12.

Season 2: Watch Episodes 1-10 on demand

CSIS ECONOMICS TEAM

Matthew P. Goodman
Senior Vice President & CSIS Simon Chair

Aidan Arasasingham
Program Coordinator & Research Assistant

Erin Murphy
Deputy Director & Senior Fellow

Hannah Grothusen
Program Coordinator & Research Assistant

Gerard DiPippo
Senior Fellow

Maxwell Bessler
Research Intern

Stephanie Segal
Senior Fellow

Joseph Vaughan
Research Intern

Matthew Reynolds
Associate Fellow

We welcome your feedback at economics@csis.org

For the latest from the program: www.csis.org/economics